

TOWN OF SCITUATE

Plan for the Scituate of the future!

In this workshop of December 10, the topic will be A Changing Community. The discussion will concentrate on how Scituate has changed and may continue to change based on current trends in demographics, the economy, and the real estate market. We will be talking about issues such as housing, commercial development, and land use to address economic and social resiliency and their relationship to environmental resiliency. Adapting to the challenges of change is critical to the future success of the Town of Scituate. Participants will identify challenges related to change and begin to discuss potential measures for adaptation, mitigation, and control based on community preferences.
